Revised Date April 26, 2010 Approved Date April 29, 2010

Introduction

Blooming Acres as an employer has a legislated responsibility to promote health and safety in the workplace, protect workers against health and safety hazards on the job and prevent or reduce occurrence of workplace injuries and occupational diseases. The employer shares this responsibility with the worker. It is in the best interest of all parties to consider health and safety in every activity. Commitment to health and safety must form an integral part of this organization, from the Chief Executive Officer to the workers.

This concept of an internal responsibility system is based on the principle that the workplace parties themselves are in the best position to identify health and safety problems and to develop solutions. Ideally, the internal responsibility system involves everyone, from the company chief executive, to the worker.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to inform Blooming Acres employees, students, volunteers, and contractors (herein referred to as workers) of the rights and obligations of Blooming Acres (the employer) and the worker with respect to health and safety on the job.

This policy also sets out general principles and duties for the workplace parties as required by legislation and details how these duties are to be carried out.
